

Marketing Campaign ROI

All six campaigns are operating at a loss, with ROI ranging from -90% to -99%. Total spend of $354.3M returned only $25.1M in attributed revenue. This points to either inefficient targeting or gaps in the attribution model. We recommend auditing the attribution methodology and reallocating budget toward Direct Mail, which shows the strongest relative return, while pausing NovaEdge Awareness until the campaign is repositioned.

Lead Funnel Bottleneck

Only 5% of leads reach the Opportunity stage, and just 18.4% convert to Closed Won. The Professional segment accounts for over half of all leads (50.3%), while Starter makes up only 2.4%. There is a clear breakdown between qualification and opportunity creation, likely due to weak nurturing or handoff gaps. Strengthening the lead-to-opportunity workflow and diversifying lead sources across segments should be a priority.
